ADDRESSES CONGRESS
IN PERSON URGING A MERCHANT MARINE

URGES CREATION OF 30 MILLION DOLLAR MERCHANT MARINE
FUND RECOMMENDED
BY BOARD

CALLS ST. LAWRENCE-GREAT LAKES WATERWAY PROJECT
A BROAD VISIONED
ENTERPRISE

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 28.—A great American merchant marine is necessary as the second line of the nation's naval defense, President Harding told congress in an appeal for approval of his ship subsidy program.

Such a merchant marine is also, he added, the highest agency of peace, and it bears no threat and incites no suspicion.

President Harding incorporated in his speech almost bodily the recommendation of the United States shipping board for a direct subsidy amounting to about $30,000,000 a year, and calling for various indirect aid. All these he asked congress to approve.

Recognizing the widespread opposition by agricultural blocs to a shipping subsidy which has been a political "bug bear" for many years, President Harding emphasized that shipping is no more a sectional interest than agriculture or manufacturing, and that all sections of the country stood to gain by a thriving ocean commerce under the American flag.

He commented upon the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence waterway project as a broad visioned enterprise.

President Harding's recommendations summarized follow:

Creation of a merchant marine fund by diverting ten per cent of all customs receipts netting about $32,000,000 a year.

All tonnage taxes collected on both foreign and American ships to be added to the merchant marine fund.

Doubling tonnage taxes to yield about $4,000,000 annually.

One-half of all profits over ten per cent to be added to the merchant marine fund.

Creation of a $125,000,000 construction loan fund to be loaned at two per cent for ship building.

Deductions from income taxes of shippers an amount equal to five per cent of freight on goods imported in American ships to stimulate use of American bottoms.

More liberal depreciation allowances in income tax rates on ships.

All income taxes to be waived when the amount of such taxes is applied to half the cost of new ship construction. Fifty per cent of all immigrants must be carried in American ships.

Creation of a merchant marine naval reserve to the maximum number of 5,000 officers and 30,000 men employed on merchantmen, receiving a maximum total of pay from the navy of about $3,000,000 a year.

All government freight and passenger traffic to be on American ships where possible.

Army transportation service to be turned over to the shipping board.

Coast trade laws to be extended to the Philippine Islands, requiring that all trade with the Islands and United States be by American ships.

Preferential rail rates of through shipments of American ships.

Co-ordination of rail and water transportation, and development of railroad owned steamship lines.

The president's recommendations were embodied in bills introduced today in the house by Rep. Greene, of Massachusetts, and in the senate by Senator Jones, of Washington.

Business Bad in Holland

(By United Press.)
London, Feb. 28.—Financial writers in Amsterdam are just now lamenting a downward trend in the business position of Holland, which is indicated by increasing unemployment.

The fundamental trouble with Holland's business is in many respects the same as some of the cause of England's present wave of unemployment, namely German competition. Strengthened by the debacle of the German mark, it has given the German manufacturers an undue advantage in competing in Holland with purely Holland-made goods. This is said to be the direct cause of many manufacturers curtailing production.

By Police Believed to Be North Dak. Farmer

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Feb. 28.—A mysterious man held in the county jail here, who has only three words to his vocabulary, is believed today to be a missing Illinois farmer. Police have been unable to get any other words from him.

Ernest P. Cox, of Wahpeton, N. D., after reading a description of the man, wrote police here that he believes the fellow is Frank Addis, a wealthy farmer who disappeared from his home there in 1919 after suffering a lapse of memory. MADALYNNE JURY
VIEWS KENNEDY
MURDER SETTING

MRS. OBENCHAIN UNMOVED, AND
CHATS WITH FRIENDS DUR-ING INSPECTION AT BEVERLY GLEN

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, on trial charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, viewed the scene of the tragedy with seeming uncertainty today while it was being pointed out to the jury.

The court made a 50-mile trip by automobile to visit Beverly Glen, where the shooting occurred, and a point on the Pacific ocean near Santa Monica, where the prosecution contends Arthur C. Burch, co-defendant in the case, threw a shotgun into the water after using it to kill Kennedy.

Kennedy was killed on a flight of steps leading up to a rustic cottage owned by him. Judge N. Reeve and a county engineer pointed out the place where the body was found, according to previous testimony, and a spot in a clump of bushes where it is contended the slayer lay in wait for Kennedy when the latter came to the cottage, accompanied by Mrs. Obenchain, on the night of Aug. 5, last.

While the jury was making its inspection, Mrs. Obenchain sat on the step where it was declared Kennedy stood when the fatal shot was fired. On the second step below her was the faint outline of what, before the winter rains set in, was a well defined bloodstain.

Mrs. Obenchain passed the time chatting with a group of women friends who surrounded her and attempted to shield her from the cameras of newspaper photographers who perched in trees and other vantage points.

When the ocean was reached the jury was shown a place where a state witness declared he saw Burch seated in an automobile about half an hour after the shooting.

SMOKING AMONG FAIR SEX IS A FAD,
DECIDE OFFICIALS

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Feb. 28.—Smoking among the fair sex is a fad that will soon go the way of all fads.

This was the decision of the Great Northern officials after a momentous discussion that caused them to abandon the idea of smoking compartments in railroad cars for women.

"There is no rule, however," said a high officer, "against women occupying a regular smoking compartment with the men. They can go there and smoke, and there is nothing to prevent them taking snuff or chewing tobacco if they want to. Also the observatory and lounge are available for fair smokers, but naturally they should be polite enough to ask other passengers permission to indulge, as men smokers do."

PRINCESS MARY WEDS
VISCOUNT LASCELLES
IN SOLEMN CEREMONY

WHICH OCCURRED IN WESTMIN-
STER ABBEY BEFORE A BRIL-LIANT ASSEMBLAGE

LOYALTY, PEERS AND COMMONERS WERE IN ATTENDANCE AT NOTABLE WEDDING

(By United Press.)
Westminster Abbey, London, Feb. 28.—Princess Mary of Britain, today became the bride of Viscount Lascelles. In a wedding ceremony, marked for its beauty and solemnity, the popular princess and the man of her choice, a British commoner, were married shortly before noon in the presence of an assembly of peers, commoners and visiting royalty.

Viscount Henry Georges Charles Lascelles and Princess Mary were pronounced man and wife at 11:43. They left the abbey together a few minutes after noon.

The historic abbey was a scene of unsurpassed beauty as the princess on the arm of her father, King George, moved down the aisle to the magnificent altar where Viscount Lascelles stood waiting. In a brief but expressive Church of England wedding ceremony, the couple were united by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Fifteen other English clergymen assisted in the ceremony. King George himself placed Princess Mary's hand in that of Viscount Lascelles.

Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, as she was called during the marriage service, promised to love, honor and obey her husband, who stood proudly erect as the archbishop pronounced the words that made them man and wife.

After the dean of the abbey had uttered his blessing, the customary address, the closing hymn and the benediction had been finished, the audience, lead by the choir, sang "God Save the King." This was the only departure from the customary ceremony of the Church of England.

Viscount Lascelles and his bride left London on their honeymoon this noon. The private train which took the couple to Weston Pall, Shropshire, where they will spend several days, left Paddington at 4:12 p. m.

Former Chancellor
Lays War to Germans

London, Feb. 28.—Responsibility for the world war was placed exclusively on German shoulders by Philipp Schiedemann, former German chancellor, in a lecture before a students' association at Copenhagen, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from the Danish capital.

Schiedemann said he believed the former emperor had been sufficiently punished but he admitted that if Germany had been victorious William naturally would have become a demog; instead he was demanded as a victim by the whole nation.

The former chancellor, who was given a mixed reception, the correspondent declares, contended that if the democratic parliamentary majority resulting from the German elections in 1912 had been followed by a democrat government, the war might have been averted.

Jewish Relief Appeal

During this week the people of Brainerd will be appealed to make a contribution to the relief of the Jewish people in suffering Europe. This appeal is unique in that it is the first of the kind that has ever come to us in this oppressed and suffering people. For nearly 2000 years they have been a people without a country. Because of their religious convictions they could not blend completely with nations which had an established church, or national religion. This has led always to misunderstandings and persecutions. The Jews have been devastated, their fields have been devastated, their children by hundreds of thousands left homeless, destitute, starving. The Jews have always taken care of their own needy. Never do we find them in our almshouses and in our jails. But today the burden is too heavy for them to carry and they appeal to us for help. We give it to them generously. If we are poor let us share our little with them.

We are glad to hear that the first reports of the canvass are very encouraging. We believe Brainerd will live up to the expectation of those who are canvassing. If the canvasser should miss call on Henry I. Cohen and give him your pledge or send your amount to B. D. LaBar, treasurer.

J. F. SMART BIRTHDAY

Former County Auditor of Brainerd Urged to Run as Representative in Alabama

The "Fairhope Courier," of Fairhope, Alabama, has this article on J. F. Smart, former county auditor of Crow Wing county, who is now farming there. At his birthday party friends urged him to run for representative. The article states:

The Caney Brook neighborhood turned out on Monday evening, the 13th inst., and perpetrated a surprise on J. F. Smart, the occasion being his fiftieth birthday.

At the close of the festivities, being called on for a speech, he sprung a little surprise of his own by reciting an original poem. He said:

"Having attained to the dignity and honors of half a century I may be permitted the privilege of starting my stories with the phrase 'When I was a boy.' At that time I wrote a few verses on 'Friendship' and by reciting them now, we will see whether they appear as well, looking back from fifty as they did looking forward from twenty. One stanza may contain some elements of real poetry. At least it was considered worthy to be set up in the college monthly at the time. 'As I look back on memory's page, Some things brighter grow with age, Those deeds stand out in bold relief, That healed a pain or stemmed a grief, Or joined in friendly mirth awhile, Or caused a saddened face to smile.

"Those things with which the world's engrossed, As lawyers' cases, merchants' tricks, Try as I will, nor spare the cost I cannot in my memory fix. 'Tis all the same in shine or rain, In city's turmoil sores; On midland farm or western plain Or northern pine tree forest. 'Let others list to beating sea, Or heat of drums in crowded marts, The sweetest music is to me The friendly beat of honest hearts.' At the close of Mr. Smart's remarks Mr. E. A. Brooks proposed that he make the run for the legislature this fall, saying that he thought it was time there was more farmers there.

Those who know Mr. Smart know that he has the knowledge of the needs of farmers and others who make their living by useful labor, and the ability to make a good representative.

Adopt the Direct Treatment for the Cold Troubles of all the Family

VICKS STANDING OFFER

Vicks doesn't relieve every case. No remedy can possibly do that. But it is successful in such a large percentage of cold troubles that we have had for years this standing offer: Buy either the 35c, 75c or $1.50 size from your druggist. If you are not delighted with the results, mail us the top of the carton, and we will cheerfully refund the purchase price. Or, if you wish to try Vicks before you buy, mail the coupon below for a free sample.

Rub It On for Deep Chest Colds

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks gets immediately into congested, inflamed air passages.

WHEN a cold goes down deep—threatens to turn into bronchitis or pneumonia—with soreness, tight breathing and a heavy hollow cough, apply hot wet cloths over throat and chest to open pores of skin. Then rub Vicks in well until the skin is red. Spread on thickly and cover with hot flannel cloths, and arrange the bedding loosely so that the healing vapors will be inhaled all night.

The penetrative and stimulative effect of Vicks thru the skin helps to relieve tightness and congestion. At the same time, the vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication direct to the lungs and air passages.

Ideal Treatment for Children

Mothers like to use Vicks for children. It avoids dosing and upsetting their stomachs. When the kiddies come in wet and "sniffing" Vicks is applied to prevent colds. It keeps off spasmodic croup. Also, its cooling, soothing qualities make it useful every day for cuts, burns, bruises, stings and itching skin.

A "Tar Heel" Discovery

Twenty-five years ago, Druggist Lunsford Richardson, of Greensboro, North Carolina, the "Tar Heel" State, seeking a better way to treat colds, hit upon a wonderful formula. He combined Camphor, Menthol and certain volatile oils in the form of a salve, so that when applied to throat and chest, it not only penetrated and stimulated like a liniment, but the ingredients were released as vapors by the body heat and inhaled directly into the affected air passages. This remedy, Vicks VapoRub, won instant local favor and its fame has spread, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks is a family standby from coast to coast.

Best of Nature's Remedies

Vicks contains valuable ingredients brought from distant countries—Camphor from Formosa, land of head-hunting savages; Menthol from picturesque Japan; Oil of Eucalyptus from far Australia; Oil of Juniper Tar from Bedouin haunts of Northern Africa; Oil of Thyme from smiling Southern France and Oil of Turpentine from Dixie.

How Vicks Should Be Used

For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds—Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved, then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. One application at bed time usually prevents a night attack of croup.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever—Vicks should be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little can be applied up the nostrils and snuffed up the head.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—if necessary, first using hot, wet cloths to open the pores of the skin—then rubbed in well until the skin is red; spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. If the cough is annoying, swallow small pieces the size of a pea.

Used as a Liniment, Poultice or Plaster—On account of its penetrative and rubefacient effect, Vicks has been found excellent for Bites, Boils, Bruises, Frost bite, Muscular Soreness, Poison Ivy, Sunburn, Headache, Neuralgia and Sore Calloused Feet.

TRIAL TIN FREE

Send this coupon to the Vick Chemical Company, Greensboro, N. C. A 1/4-oz. trial tin of Vicks will be mailed you promptly, sufficient to test the efficacy of its vapors by melting in a spoon, as shown in the illustration to the left.

"PROMISING" CANDIDATE WANTED

Republican politicians in Little Falls are at odds and ends over the Congressional nomination in this district. It seems that H. L. Biddinger, chairman of the Republican county committee, and who was a candidate for postmaster at Little Falls, sent out a letter to the different counties in the district, urging the nomination of a new candidate for Congress in opposition to Harold Knutson, and stating that "Morrison county is ready to go into the district convention and back any good promising candidate." In effect, Mr. Biddinger undertook to get a Morrison county delegation opposed to Congressman Knutson. The letter was sent out on a letter head of the Little Falls Republican Club, also carrying the names of the county committee.

Upon learning of the Biddinger letter fourteen Little Falls Republicans issued a statement to Republican county chairmen of the Sixth district to correct the impression made by the letter. They declared that they knew nothing whatever of the letter or its contents, that there had been no meeting of either the club or the committee, nor had there been any agitation locally for another candidate for Congress from this district. Nine out of 12 members of the county committee and five other prominent Republicans signed this letter, declaring that the Biddinger move was purely personal.

The Falls City Republicans are "all hot up" over the incident, but the strong probabilities are that Mr. Biddinger's scheme to secure a delegation from Morrison county opposed to Congressman Knutson will "die aborning."

REGULATING DRUG STORES

The State Pharmaceutical Association, it is announced, will ask the next legislature to enact a law providing for the regulation of all drug stores in Minnesota by the State Board of Pharmacy. This action was decided upon at the annual meeting of the association in Minneapolis recently.

In case such a law is passed, it is explained, all applications for drug store licenses would be passed upon by the state officials in cooperation with the prohibition authorities. This, it is thought, will do away with much of the abuse that has been heaped upon all druggists because of the shady liquor sales of a few.

"INTERESTED HIM NO MORE"

Former President Wilson, upon being courteously requested by a New York magazine to give some message to the American people for a number which it proposed to dedicate to "Smile Week," declared: "I have no message to send on so silly a subject." This of course only caused a general chuckle.

That may have been because in November, 1920, Mr. Wilson joined Bret Harte's "Society Upon the Stanislaus." "He smiled a kind of sickly smile and curled upon the floor."

And the subsequent proceedings interested him no more.

O. P. B. Jacobson, chairman of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission, will keep out of the Senatorial fight. When waited upon by a delegation from the railroad brotherhoods and urged to enter the race he flatly refused to even consider the matter.

We notice by a news telegram from Walker that "a movement is on foot by Brainerd people to obtain signers to a petition asking that certain townships now comprising a part of southern Cass county be annexed to Crow Wing county, with Brainerd as the county seat."

typical Northern Minnesota booster, and the people of his district will probably keep him there as long as he is willing to represent them.

"Germany's railway tie-up," says the Providence Journal, "is another reminder of what we do not want and will never again tolerate in the United States."

It really looks sometimes as if there were a great many people who are in favor of the soldier bonus but "agin its enforcement."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Nut" Decidedly Good Entertainment

"The Nut"—a necessary cog in the complexity of life!!

This newest Douglas Fairbanks United Artists production came to the Lyceum Theatre yesterday, unfolding a photoplay that demands closest and deepest respect and admiration. It is a feature showing genuine originality, and the unique scenes which serve as a pictorial background leave an indelible impression upon the memory. The story is by Kenneth Davenport and the screen adaptation by William Parker and Lotta Woods, while Ted Reed is credited with the direction. Fairbanks' treatment of this novel vehicle serves to stamp him further as a master interpreter of the subtleties of life. One cannot help but be moved to great delight upon seeing this film and at its conclusion feel that he has witnessed an entertainment of exceptional merit.

The story is direct, strong in love interest and also develops many amusing complexities. It differs from other Fairbanks' photoplays in that it is dominated by comedy complications rather than stunts. At the same time, however, there are enough athletic thrills to satisfy all Fairbanks admirers.

Ray Prefers Petite Type of Leading Lady

There is no doubt about it. Charles Ray prefers the petite type of actress in his pictures.

Charles Ray
in "Two Minutes To Go"

"Sunshine Mary" Anderson, who plays opposite him in his latest First National attraction which will be shown last time tonight at the New Park, is 4 feet 10 in. height and weighs 105 pounds.

Vera Stedman, who had the principal feminine role in "Scrap Iron," is 5 feet and 2 and weighs 118 pounds. Dorothy DeVore, who played the role of Mary in the Ray photoplay version of "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway," is just 5 feet 2 and weighs 115 pounds.

Thrilling Situations Punctuate Beautiful Love Story, "Molly O."

"Molly O." Mack Sennett's production featuring Mabel Normand, the First National attraction which will be shown at the New Park Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, contains sufficient material for several tensely thrilling motion picture plays. There are no less than four strong dramatic situations, tense enough for the climax of an usual production, and through it runs a love story as sweet and winsome as anything that has ever been done for the screen.

Molly O. daughter in a family which ekes out a precarious existence thru cleaning jobs done by the father and washing done by the mother, starts the ball rolling by pasting her own photograph over a question mark used by a sensational newspaper to indicate the young woman rumored to be engaged to the very wealthy, handsome and likable Dr. John Spencer Bryant. She studies the photograph of the doctor to such extent that later, when she sees him making a call, feels almost as if she knows him, and tries to attract his attention. He smiles at her amusedly.

The doctor encounters his trouble when Molly O.'s mother selects the newspaper on which she has pasted her photograph to cover the wash which goes to the home of the doctor's fiancée. She has also seen the two of them riding together. Molly O. delivers the wash, and the denouncement which the fiancée makes of her indicates to the doctor the kind of woman he is engaged to.

The doctor accompanies Molly O. home from church and her father makes no secret of the fact that he wants him to stay away from his daughter. The antagonism only increases their attraction for each other and Molly O. resolves to attend a big charity ball, at which she knows the doctor will be present.

There ensues a scene in which the fiancée offers him a ring back. The doctor gladly accepts.

Viola Dana in "Home Stuff Coming" Viola Dana, whose admirers on the screen are legion, has the stellar role in the production, "Home Stuff," which

DIVORCE ACTION ALIENATION SUIT

Alma Choudeck Sues Frank for Divorce, Alleging Cruel, Inhuman Treatment

CO-RESPONDENT IS ALSO NAMED

Suit for $25,000 Filed by Frank A. Choudeck, Gustav Halvorson His Attorney

A divorce case filed in district court has been followed by a $25,000 suit for alienation of affections.

Alma Choudeck sued Frank A. Choudeck for divorce. Her attorneys are M. E. and C. A. Ryan and the attorney for the defendant is Gustav Halvorson. She is 25 and her husband 24 years old. The Choudecks were married in Lincoln, Nebraska, on May 25, 1920. In her complaint she charges cruel and inhuman treatment commencing the spring of 1921. She alleges the defendant has a violent and ungovernable temper, that on December 22, 1921 he struck and beat her about the head and face.

A motion made by her attorneys to be allowed $75 for attorneys fees and $25 for court costs was denied by Judge W. S. McClenahan.

The answer of the defendant sets up a charge of adultery, naming a co-respondent.

Following the divorce proceedings Choudeck through his attorney Gustav Halvorson has commenced suit for $25,000 against the co-respondent, charging alienation of his wife's affections. The complaint states that "while plaintiff was living happily with said Alma Choudeck as his wife, enjoying her society, affections, services and aid, the alienation of affections occurred and that she was enticed and induced to leave plaintiff and get a divorce under promise by said defendant that he would marry her when she got such divorce."

CARL ADAMS INJURED

Opened Furnace Door at His Home Just as Gas Ignited, Hurting Him Six Feet Away

Carl Adams nearly had a fire all by himself Tuesday morning. In the early hours before dawn he descended to the basement of his home, clad in pajamas and slippers, to remind the furnace that it was 21 degrees below and heat was expected.

He opened the door and gave the coal a poke. In some way the accumulated gas ignited and the furnace made too quick a start. There was an explosion hurling Mr. Adams six feet. He had his face averted at the time and the sheet of flame just singed away eye brows and some of his hair on top of his head. Some flames flared up on the pajamas and he threshed them out.

ELKS SHOW HAD BIG FIRST NIGHT

7 O'Clock Show Had Every Seat Taken, Main Floor to the Roof Line in the Balcony

EVERY ACT DREW APPLAUSE

One Hour of Pictures "Two Minutes to Go", Followed by Home Talent Vaudeville

The Elks' show Monday evening scored a tremendous first night attendance. Every seat in the house was taken, main floor and on up to the roof line of the gallery there was a perfect sea of faces.

The show, designated "Out at Parkerville", started with a peppy picture, Charles Ray in "Two Minutes to Go". It started with a laugh, ran into romance and ended in a succession of thrills that came with a hard fought football game in which some of the biggest players of the country participated.

The vaudeville section gave an opportunity for Brainerd to witness some of its best home talent. Every number went with snap and spirit and there were no waits.

Exalted Ruler John A. Hoffbauer introduced Deacon Parson Jefferson Johnson Brown and the latter, being Col. C. D. Johnson, delivered a powerful sermon based on the nursery tale of Old Mother Hubbard. In sonorous phrases, embellished by incisive observations and ruminations, Deacon Parson Jefferson Johnson Brown discussed Mother Hubbard, the dog's predicament, the bare cupboard, the absent bone, the fact she was a widow, the difficulty in raising dogs when there were no bones, etc., etc.

Charles Stadlbauer gave a chalk talk, revealing wonderful talent never before shown Brainerd spectators. He sketched a lake scene at Parkerville, drawing the whole thing upside down, and when he righted the picture its full beauty was displayed and much applause showered on him.

The Elks' quartet was in splendid voice. They sang "Bill of Fare", which has many difficult changes of tempo and key and they surmounted all difficulties of the score and gave a perfect rendition. Their encore was also well received. In the quartet are S. F. Alderman, John M. Bye, A. C. Miraz and Roland Jenkins.

Mrs. Mal D. Clark made a most favorable impression with her song "Stealing". At almost the last minute she had changed her song, the first selection having been "Smilin'". She was heartily applauded and commended for her singing. She was most beautifully gowned.

John Holvick, a new addition to home talent, burst on the stage in an old country costume wearing a yellow wig. He made a hit from the start off. He sang his 16 verse Swedish song entitled "My Nicolini". It told of the young man who was courting Nicolini and the girl's father wasn't a bit impressed with him. He chased him from Nicolini's home and the lover never got any closer to Nicolini than the front gate. As an encore Holvick gave a dialect song summarizing his visit at the State Fair and the impressions received.

The saxophone quintet got a big hand. Dressed in white trousers and dark coats, they made a natty appearance. They played "When Shall We Meet Again," the "Tucky Blues" and "Wabash Blues." In the quintet are Dr. Melvin H. Carlson, Ernest C. Crust, Winfred Edling, Frank Kaufman and Carl Rodman. The accompanist was Edward Crust. Many expressed a wish to hear them again and will attend the show a second time tonight.

Mrs. John H. Krekelberg was in good voice and was heard in the balcony. "Why Dear," it was beautifully sung and she was given the most hearty applause. She, like Mrs. Clark, also had to respond to an encore. She was beautifully gowned.

Ray DeRoche was a blackface bellhop and he sang his "Maw" with full orchestral accompaniment and a green spot light. Ray sang of the girl who was continually calling on "Maw" and telling her troubles. It was given with a gusto and spirit that hit the fancy of the audience.

The Elks quartet sang that old favorite "Roll Dem Bones" and they rolled them to the delight of the whole audience.

Mrs. Walter F. Wieland was accompanist for Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Krekelberg and the Elks quartet. Her playing is always appreciated and she is entitled to share in the honors for the success attained by the show. She was most handsomely gowned.

Many people who attended other society doings Monday night will be at this Tuesday night's show of the Elks and full houses are expected at 7 and 9 p. m. tonight. Many people from the range are expected at tonight's performance.

COMMERICAL COLLEGE UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

R. D. Stitzel, For Past Six Years Principal of Brainerd Commercial College Sells Interest

J. H. WARNER IS NEW OWNER

School Has prospered and Grown Until in Six Years It Is One of Best in the State

R. D. Stitzel, for the past six years principal of the Brainerd Commercial college, has sold this school to J. H. Warner, of Bradford, Penn., the new proprietor taking possession on February 1st.

Mr. Warner comes to Brainerd well prepared to carry on the work of the college and expects to continue the progressive policies of the former owner. He has had thirty years experience in his chosen work, and is the owner of two business colleges in the east.

It will be remembered that Mr. Stitzel started the Brainerd Commercial College under the most adverse conditions. A number of similar schools had at one time and another been opened in Brainerd, but each was short lived, about one year being the limit of the best school and the public had little faith in such a venture ever being a success in Brainerd.

Starting under this handicap, the school has prospered and grown, until in six years it ranks among the best of its kind in the state, and has lately been recognized by the educational department as an accredited college, eligible for the training of numerous students being now educated by the state.

Mr. Warner asks for the same hearty cooperation in still further building up this worthy institution in keeping with the city of Brainerd and the surrounding territory.

Mr. Stitzel will not leave Brainerd, but has associated himself with the Brainerd Tribune, in charge of their new office supply department lately installed.

BAKERY ADDS MUCH NEW EQUIPMENT

Anderson & Engbretson, of 708 Front Street, Have New Mixer and Bread Moulder

CAPACITY OF 2,000 LOAVES

Sales of Their "Butter Top", Made in Brainerd Bread, Are Daily Increasing

At the Anderson & Engbretson bakery located at 708 Front street, the firm has made many improvements, rendered necessary by their rapidly increasing trade. Anderson & Engbretson make a bread known as the "Butter Top" brand and this has the "home" flavor and has struck the fancy of the people. Sales in Brainerd and surrounding territory, are very satisfactory, showing the people appreciate a good product.

Among the new machinery installed is a mixer with a capacity of 2,000 loaves and a moulder, which latter takes the place of moulding loaves by hand. Further improvements in the machinery line are contemplated.

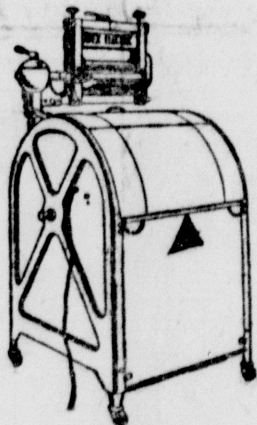

The bakery and confectionery store section has been newly papered and painted by Frank H. McCaffrey. The ceiling is a pearl gray, with walls of tan. Fixtures and furniture have been re-varnished, thus making the store with all its improvements a most inviting place.

PRINCESS MARY PROMISES TO OBEY; KING GEORGE'S DAUGHTER WEDS COMMONER

ELABORATE CEREMONIES INSIDE AND OUTSIDE WESTMINSTER ABBEY WITNESSED BY HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS

By P. M. SAILL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
London, Feb. 28.—With imposing state, military and religious pageantry, Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, was married today at Westminster Abbey to Viscount Lascelles, eldest son and heir of the Earl and Countess of Harewood, and one of England's wealthiest noblemen.

King George gave his daughter away, and the historic Abbey, which last saw the wedding of an English sovereign's child 640 years ago, was packed by a distinguished assemblage, including Queen Mary, Queen-Mother Alexandria, the Kings and Queens of Spain, Norway and Belgium, the whole of the British royal family, with the exception of the Prince of Wales (now in India), and Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught (in South Africa), and a host of minor royalties, British nobility and society leaders.

The enthusiasm of the crowd lining the processional route from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey testified to the popular gratification of the Princess having stepped outside the ranks of royalty to choose a husband, an act, the rarity of which is shown by the fact that she is only the third daughter of a reigning British sovereign to marry non-princely rank. Her predecessors were Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria, who married the Marquis of Lorne in 1871, and Mary Tudor, daughter of King Henry VII, who married the Duke of Brabant in 1515. Princess Mary's aunt, Princess Louise, married a "commoner," the late Duke of Fife, but her father, the late King Edward, was not on the throne at the time.

Every available inch of space in the Abbey was occupied, some 2,000 invitations being issued and these included the whole of the cabinet, members of parliament, the diplomatic corps, high state and municipal officials, selected delegations of various important bodies, the tenants of the royal estates at Sandringham and Balmoral and the Lascelles family domains, etc. In front of the Sanctuary handsome gift chairs brought specially from Buckingham Palace provided seating accommodation for the royal family and distinguished guests, those occupied by the King and Queen being slightly raised on a sort of dais.

The Archbishop of Canterbury officiated, assisted by the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of London and the Dean of Westminster (the last named having previously lodged the customary time-honored protest against his spiritual superiors usurping his rights in his own abbey). The magnificent abbey choir, under the direction of Sir Frederick Bridge, was reinforced by the band of the Grenadier Guards. The route from Buckingham Palace was lined by regiments of Foot Guards resplendent in scarlet and gold, with huge black bearskin headdresses, and vast crowds packed the sidewalks, while in the spacious mall the crush was beyond anything seen for many years. The populace were in a holiday humor and heartily cheered the various royalties and high officials, but the appearance of Princess Mary was the signal for an extraordinary outburst of wholehearted enthusiasm and loyalty.

The royal bride, looking charming in her bridal gown of white silver and silver brocade, drove in an open carriage with her father, escorted by a glittering squadron of cuirassiers Life Guards and followed by half a dozen carriages conveying the bridesmaids, members of the family and high officials. The King wore the uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Guards, out of compliment to the bridegroom. Thru a forest of waving flags and handkerchiefs and a hurricane of cheers, the cavalcade proceeded to the great west door of the abbey, where the royal party were received by the archbishops and high ecclesiastical and state dignitaries. The band of the Guards played the national anthem, while in Hyde Park a battery of artillery commenced firing a royal salute.

At the door guards of honor of the bridegroom's regiment, the Grenadier Guards, and the Royal Scots—of which Princess Mary is Honorary Colonel—were drawn up, and the aisle was lined by Guards officers, the bridegroom's former battlefield comrades.

With the slow speed customary at state ceremonies, experienced officials marshalled the bridal procession which made a stately progress towards the Sanctuary, preceded by heralds in multi-colored tabards, and ushers bearing white wands walking backwards. Princess Mary leaned on King George's arm. Her long ivory satin and silver-thread court train was borne by small pages while the bridesmaids made a bevy of beauty, of whom perhaps the most noticeable was the bonnie little fifteen-year-old Lady May Cambridge. The bridesmaids were: Princess Maud, daughter of the late Duke of Fife; Lady Victoria Cambridge, daughter of the Marquis of Cambridge, and Lady May Cambridge, daughter of the Earl of Athlone (all three cousins of the bride); Lady Rachel Cavendish, daughter of the Duke of Devonshire; Lady Mary Thynne, daughter of the Marquis of Bath; Lady Doris Gordon-Lennox, daughter of the Earl of March; Lady Elisabeth Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the Earl of Strathmore, and the fourteen-year-old Lady Diana Bridgeman, daughter of the Earl of Bradford.

Viscount Lascelles, wearing the uniform of a major of the Grenadier Guards and showing a row of war medals, awaited his bride at the chancel. He was attended, as best man, by Major Victor McKenzie, whose green Rifle Brigade uniform also displayed the highest war decorations for valor. As soon as the "high contracting parties" had taken their places at the steps of the Sanctuary, the service commenced. It differed in no respect from the ordinary form of marriage service, and in answer to the Archbishop's query, "Who giveth this woman, etc.," King George stepped forward and said "I do" like an ordinary father. There were no stunts or omissions, and Princess Mary promised to "love, honor and obey," just as countless millions of her humble sisters have done through the ages. After the ring had been placed on the bride's finger and the final words pronounced converting the Princess of Great Britain into Viscountess Lascelles, the venerable Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address and felicitated the couple.

There were numerous formalities, however, before the newly-married couple could escape, the most important being the stately procession to the Registry, where the register was signed. Two registers were laid out on a small table, the regular Abbey Register and the special Home Office Register, in which all royal marriages are recorded. These were under the charge of Dr. Knapp-Fisher, receiver-general, who stepped forward, bowing, to offer imposing quill pens. Only the bride and bridegroom, King George and the Earl of Harewood, father of the bridegroom, signed the registers today, but the remainder of the royal family will sign at Buckingham Palace tomorrow.

Then there was a slightly amusing little ceremony when Lascelles formally "adopted" his royal father-in-law. The bridegroom bowed low to the King and kissed the hand which was afterwards held out for a hearty fatherly handshake. He then advanced towards Queen Mary, bowed, kissed her hand and then her cheek; repeating the process with Queen Mother Alexandria. After which he was permitted to kiss his own mother and father in more homely fashion, while the select little band of royalties gathered around to congratulate the couple. The bridal procession was reformed, leaving by way of the west door, under an arch of swords made by the bridegroom's brother officers. Applause greeted their appearance, and the cheers were renewed as the newly-married pair entered the state carriage.

SALOME NO LONGER SHOCKS NEW YORK

By ALICE ROHE.
(Written for the United Press.)
New York, Feb. 28.—It may have been Galileo who started "the earth moves" theory, but it is Mary Garden who has proved it according to twentieth century New York standards.

Salome may not be regarded in all circles as a vehicle for proving a scientific fact, but she has done very nicely thank you, up-to-date.

Those who attended the Chicago Opera Company's first performance of the Strauss-Wilde opera at the Manhattan Opera House realized with an overpowering sensation how times have changed since the initial New York performance in January, 1907, which scandalized "society" and caused its instant withdrawal from the Metropolitan Opera House.

Even when Mary Garden was Oscar Hammerstein star Salome people were not shocked proof.

"If you have veils, prepare to shed them now" seemed to be the attitude this season of the audience during the entire performance. And at that Mary in her exquisite rendering of the Dance of the Seven Veils cheated on three counts. She only shed four. And this despite a mental attitude of shock defiance.

Indeed keeping mental finger on the public pulse, I don't believe either heart beats were increased or temperature raised above normal, except insofar as appreciation of music and art affects the emotions.

So far as any violent symptoms were concerned the audience might have been enjoying a church cantata.

I have a sneaking idea that the report may have gotten thoroughly spread that Salome is a strictly intellectual opera and that people judge things according to their own powers of comprehension.

Who with the price of a Grand Opera seat would dare face such a supposition?

I am more inclined to believe the fact that not an eyebrow was raised in unkindness against the Judean Princess in merely the earth-moves affair—and of course Mary Garden is guaranteed to keep things not only moving but humming.

We owe a lot to this incomparable artist who has made the real meaning of Grand Opera—drama and music—clear to us. She has given it the grand boost, as it were, over the hurdles put in our way of aesthetic appreciation—by elderly fat prima donnas who couldn't act—and who couldn't take a note without gluing their eyes on the director. Mary has moved the operative word—that is certain.

With only five weeks of the Chicago Grand Opera Company in New York, directed by "herself," Mary Garden has given us again those great portraits of Salome and Melisande. What other actress is there on the dramatic stage who has given two such utterly dissimilar characterizations—so perfectly—as those of the evanescent dream like Melisande and the strange, unbridled, erotic Salome. Against a background of superb portraiture of Thais, Louise, "Je Jongleur," "L'Amore de Tre Re," these two stand out commanding one's dramatic critical sense.

Of course the important thing to note is that with Chicago putting the lid down tighter than the soldiers' shields on Salome, everything has been so wide open in New York that they had to keep on repeating this opera and they are still crying for more.

EDUCATOR DEFENDS MODERN FLAPPER

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Feb. 28.—The reformer of the flapper is the peril of public schools, according to Professor Frank M. Hunter, who is attending the national education association meeting here.

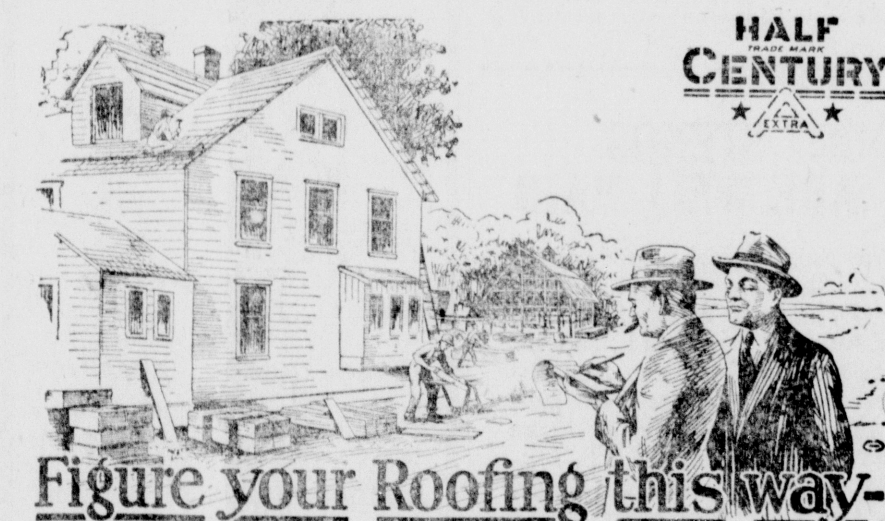

"The parent should not forget the red blooded days of their youth and attempt to force adult ideas on young people," he said. "There are worse things than the modern dance, rolled hose, short dresses and galoshes. I would rather see the girl of today clad in galoshes style than in accordance with prudish ideas of the radical reformers."

Hunter said cigarette smoking by girls should be discouraged, but many girls can go right into their mother's boudoir and find several cigarette stubs.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. A large share of the expense in any roof is the labor of laying it. If you put on the right kind of roof, that settles the matter for good and all. You are never going to have to fuss with it and your first cost is going to be your last cost. That is the result when you insist on having "HALF CENTURY" BRAND WHITE CEDAR SHINGLES.

There is no wood that can excel White Cedar in weather-resisting quality. That's why it is such a wonderful shingle wood. And "Half Century" Shingles are the best White Cedar Shingles because they are made the right thickness and are air cured.

Shingles that are cut too thin or are too hastily seasoned, as is apt to be the case when they are cured under the dry kiln process, are liable to split in nailing and they have a tendency to crack, curl and warp.

"Half Century" Shingles are cut right, cured right and they last as long as their name indicates. And they stain beautifully in any shade.

All lumber dealers can supply you. (Look for the trade-mark on every bundle. It's your guarantee of quality.)

Fruits in Powder.
It would be very convenient to keep in the pantry fruit juices in the form of dry powders, so that one could mix a glass of lemonade or orangeade or other beverage offhand. They would be useful, also, for cooking. A newly patented process for making such powders consists in mixing the fruit juice with gelatinized starch and reducing the solution to a dry product by atomizing it into a current of dry, warm air.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat feeds the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

It's different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shinelast four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.

All we ask is a trial. Tie it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes—Prevents rusting. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.
